

SHORTAGE OF CARS TIES UP COAL MINES

Pennsylvania Operators Forecast
Famine Unless Transportation
Facilities Are Improved Soon.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 27.—Fears of a coal famine were expressed by operators here to-day. Because of the inability of railroads to provide transportation facilities many mines in the Pittsburgh district were closed and others were producing but 17 per cent of their normal output. Thousands of miners are idle.

Railroad heads could offer no encouragement. They placed the blame on the weather.

DIES ON WAY TO DEAD MAN.

Undertaker's Heart Gives Way
After Running Upstairs.

John Barrett, an undertaker, of No. 328 East 104th Street, received a summons shortly after 1 o'clock this morning to attend the body of Bernard Weagham, who had just died in his rooms at No. 160 East 85th Street. Barrett, who was a very heavy man, hastened.

Despite his weight he ran up five flights of stairs to Weagham's room. As he reached the top his heart failed and he dropped dead. His body was taken to the East 85th Street Police Station.

Prof. Oddoni Here With His Invenometer.

Prof. Emilio Oddoni, noted seismologist, arrived here from Naples to-day on the steamer President Wilson on his way to Mexico, where he will study the causes and effects of the recent earthquakes. He brought with him his new invention, the inveniometer, for the measurement of energy and motion. On the trip across, the professor used it to measure ocean waves.

GIRL WITH REVOLVER HELD.

She Says Escort Put It in Her
Pocket, and He Also Is Arrested.

May Howitt is just past seventeen and lives at No. 465 East 146th Street. About four months ago she came to the United States from Ireland. To-day she was arraigned in the Yorkville Court, charged with violation of the Sullivan Law.

May was arrested last night by Police Officer Reitor of the East 67th Street Station, who found the butt of a loaded revolver had been slipped into her pocket by her escort, Samuel Crossot, of No. 465 East 68th Street, who was also arrested, charged with felonious assault by Harold Mahoney, of No. 1106 Second Avenue. Crossot and Mahoney are rival admirers of the girl.
